We,

bring to mind happy
thoughts of your school days, and glimpses of the faces of your comrades and fellow students. This book, we hope, will be a treasured possession which you will always keep. Our wish to the seniors is that they go forth as the young Indian brave went, with courage and faith to conquer the world before them.

How he lived and how he toiled and suffered,
That the tribes of men might prosper,
That he might advance his people."

The ALMA MATER

Hark, the students' voices swelling,
Strong and true and clear;
Alma Mater's love they're telling Ringing far and near.

REFRAIN

William and Mary, loved of old,
Hark upon the gale;
Hear the thunder of our chorus,
Alma Mater—hail!

Iron-shod and golden sandaled
Shall the years go by;
Still our hearts shall weave about thee
Love that cannot die.

All thy sons are faithful to thee
Through their college days;
Singing out of hearts that love thee
Alma Mater's praise.

God, our Father, hear our voices,
Listen to our cry,
Bless the college of our fathers,
Let her never die.

VOL. XV RICHMOND, VIRGINIA NUMBER 9

Class of '34 Makes Good

[Extracts from a letter received from an alumna.]

DEAR EDITOR:

The years have rolled around since we, the Class of 1934 quit the portals of the worthy and "stable" gymnasium. We were more important at that time than when we went to Williamsburg and received a degree along with some hundreds of others. At least we still look upon that night in Richmond as our commencement. We have clutched our "sheepskins" and with it as a weapon have made our way into the world.

A few of us have won fame and have taken first places in the social, political, scientific and economical fields of America. We are well represented in many institutions throughout the country.

First of all we see "Liz" Walker, our Senior Class President, presiding graciously at the head of her table. She is as serene as ever except when "Junior" places both fists in the spinach.

Margaret Wilson, who was widely known for her intellect, is now finishing her nursing course and will join her husband in his hospital.

Elizabeth Fisher is a well-known writer on political subjects, and attributes her fame to the extreme value of the Senior Class minutes.

Virginia Thornton is director of a group of volunteer case workers from her Alma Mater. She wearies them with commands of "stand up straight" or "don't chew gum."

Mary Lou Austin has taken to the air and with her pilot, she has the pleasure of being a pioneer social case worker among the people on Mars.

Mary Anderson is running the William and Mary plane. She takes all girls who live on Grove Avenue above the Boulevard and makes a snappy non-stop flight to the rent house at the College. Each girl is provided with a parachute and the landing is made soft by the grass in the yard. Her slogan is "No waiting for Busses! Guaranteed to arrive on time!"

Kitty Blake is giving lectures on "The Family" while her own take their naps.

Virginia Amos and Mrs. Albright hope that they have found in their laboratory the proof that "a person sees with his ears and hears with his nose."

Addie Midkiff has just set a new record for sprinting with bricks balanced on her head. She practised during her college days by running to the library with Shakespeare's volume under each arm.

Margaret Smith is the illustrious "Hollywood Queen."

Evelyn Conway was sent as a missionary to Kalamazoo, and we are proud to say that she established among those canibals a famous nightclub. In other words she civilized those barbarous people!

Ruth Brown is now a Professor of Photography. She is teaching all Editors of College Annuals to make their own pictures and thus avoid fights with strange men.

Mary Clark is in the circus as the "World's famous Giggler." She made a name for herself when she saw Eddie Cantor in "Roman Scandals" back in 1934.

Eleanor Burruss, Dot Echols, and Lorimer Fauntleroy compose the committee for the Interior Decoration of the Shafer Street rooms. Of course you all remember when Dr. Hibbs created a little excitement in 1940 by putting petitions down the middle of the street. We hope the committee will use the college colors of green, gold and silver.

Fannye Krapin is our pride and joy! She is the first woman to be Secretary of the Treasury in the United States—She says that the accounts are not as difficult to keep as those of the Atlas Club or May Day.

Frances Smith feels that the Psycology she learned in books is not practical. From experience she feels that corporal punishment is advisable in bringing up children.

Bertha Kessler is the new Social Reformer of her city. She lectures all people who throw banana peels on the side walk. She is also conducting a campaign against Amanda Sydnor who is running for Mayor—Amanda chews gum.

Mrs. Clark is now a Ph.D. Even though she is a real "doctor" she is as good a sport as ever, and never puts on airs with her title.

Carrie Lena Moffett has just published a new song entitled "Who Ain't Afraid of the Big Bad Tar Heels."

Mae Shelburne is matron of a farm where she and her Juvenile Delinquents have taken refuge from one fierce and bold detective, Helen Kindervater.

Sad to relate "Monty" was found to have a dislocated screw in her brain, and is now earnestly engaged in Teaching "The Swing" dance and "Farmer In the Dell" to the inmates in our "sister institution" at Williamsburg.

So much for the Class of '34. Let us know all the news at school. Do tell us if Doctor Hibbs has broken his neck falling down the XYZ ladders, because he was doing his best on the C.W.A. ones in '34. Please give him a parachute and spare the lilies.

As ever,
AN ALUMNA.

CLASS of 1934

History

Freshman days! Duc week! What days! Collectively our most annoying task of the year was composition writing, starting with "Why I Came to College" and ending with "What I Have Gotten From College."

Before we hardly got adjusted to being away from protective "apron strings" on our own, the "sophs" came along with the idea that the meek freshman needed taking down to the station of a Duc. We had to love, honor, and obey upper classmen. These were the basic laws. A violator's name was taken and she was penalized at Duc Court.

But the Sophomores treated us better on Thanksgiving. They gave us our first college party. We had lots of fun playing games and eating ice cream.

We enjoyed a successful year through the leadership of our president, Natilie Kolliner, of Minnesota, and the guidance of our able and interested sponsor, Miss Townley.

In the spring of the year our Government class took the annual D. C. trip under Dr. Johnson's direction. (Do you still have those dime pictures which we enjoyed posing for?)

Before we knew it, time to practice for May Day dances was upon us. On May Day we payed tribute to the Queen of Beauty, our Student Government President, Helen Drinker.

MCMXXXII

Chapter 2

Returning in the fall, after a long vacation, we felt our important position as sophmores. To satisfy our sadistic as well as revenge "instinct," we followed in our persecutors footsteps by drilling the Freshmen through the traditional rules of Duc week, and closing with Duc Court.

Again, it was time for May Day. This year we paid tribute to our stately Queen Mabel Besecker.

The guiding light of our Sophomore year was our president, Margaret Wilson; in fact, she was so good that we elected her again for the Junior year.

MCMXXXIII

Chapter 3

This year we lost many old students and gained many new ones, especially from William and Mary at Williamsburg, who wished to take up Social Case Work. Many of the old students transferred to other colleges.

It was in this chapter of our college life that we got an inkling of what our chosen professions were like. How about our first home visits which we made for the William Byrd Community House?

Just before mid-term examinations we lost our sponsor. This came as a great blow to everyone. It was then that we realized what Miss Townley had meant to us and to the School.

The big event of this year to us was the Junior-Senior banquet, which we gave at the Westmoreland Club in May. Everyone enjoyed the place, the food and the speeches, especially Dr. Hibbs' humorous touches.

On May Day of this year we enjoyed seeing Carolyn Davis crowned as the reigning queen.

MCMXXXIV

Chapter 4

Our Senior year we returned in an uproar. The courses had been lengthened and the requirements raised. All human nature objects to changes, and we were no different. All this was adjusted and left no hard feelings.

In November we gave a masquerade dance with refreshments and prizes. This was the first dance of its kind given here.

At the beginning of the second semester we started field work. We found the copying of case records worse than freshman composition.

In spite of the extra work of the last half of our senior year, we found time for some fun. We seniors were well represented on May Day with our class president, Elizabeth Walker, as queen and three other members of the class in the court. My! what a good time we had at the banquet the juniors gave us! And then, when we remember the finals in Richmond as well as in Williamsburg, the feeling of pride at finishing and the feeling of sadness at leaving our friends, returns.

We wish to express our appreciation to the faculty for their guidance and inspiration. We hope that each of us will strive to serve in the future with the same sincere purpose and willingness as they have manifested.

LUELLA TOWNLEY LITERARY SOCIETY

THE LUELLA TOWNLEY LITERARY SOCIETY was formed during the fall term of 1931 to arouse interest in and promote a greater appreciation of literature.

The society adopted the name of Miss Luella Townley, who was at that time senior professor, and who became first sponsor of the group.

In an attempt to realize its aim, the society has held monthly discussions of current books, sponsored open meetings to which the entire student body was invited, and established a section of the library as a memorial to Miss Townley.

The March of the Years——

Twenty years ago this Richmond College "Spider" was the pride of its day. We were proud to have produced it . . . . . That goes double for "THE WIGWAM" of 1934. Compare them, and you will see why Whittet & Shepperson through more than half a century have stood for the finest in printing.

OWNING AND OPERATING
SANITARY STORES

Experience has taught us . . . .

THAT clean modern stores attract business.

THAT good will is a priceless asset.

THAT a chain store can and should be public-spirited and civic-minded.

THAT quality is just as must a selling point as price.

THAT courteousness never lost a customer for us or anyone else.
